The Central Ohio Orienteers {centralohioorienteers.org} are hosting this event as part of National Orienteering Day (NOD) {www.us.orienteering.org}. If you want to take a group of over 5 scouts, Karen Rogers {krogers004@columbus.rr.com} or Alan Edmonds {edmonds.1@osu.edu} would like you to let them know in advance via e-mail. Individuals don't need to sign up in advance; just show up and have a blast hiking and navigating in the woods. Come by yourself or bring your friends and family. Any way you try it, you'll find O' is the way to go.

Each of our NOD events features newcomer instruction, a variety of courses from beginner through seasoned adventure racer complexity, a souvenir topographic map, and a chance to take home an orienteering compass, USGS map CD, or other sponsor prizes.

Whether your goal is to discover a new sport or seek a course record, or to bring your Scout Pack, or Troop to learn a new way to practice outdoor map-reading and compass skills, or simply to take a purposeful walk in the woods with a friend, orienteering is a great choice.

This fulfills First Class Requirement 1b – run an orienteering course. It also of course applies to the requirements of the Orienteering Merit Badge.
